MUSICAL CLUBS' CONCERT.

The Third in Hartford Given in the Memorial Baptist Church.

The Musical Clubs gave their third concert in Hartford this season at the Memorial Baptist Church, corner of Washington and Jefferson Streets, last Tuesday evening. The concert was well-attended and on the whole quite satisfactory both to the audience and to the clubs' leaders and directors. The selections were generally well-rendered and all received their full measure of applause.

The concert commenced with the singing of "At Trinity", the song written by A. P. Burgwin, '82, and the "Drinking Song," by the Glee Club. The former one of these has not made its appearance on the club program since the concert in Suffield, but went off with a dash and vim, and did not seem to have lost by the lack of repetition. The "Drinking Song" was rendered, as usual, with considerable earnestness and enthusiasm. The Mandolin Club appeared next with the "Phryne Waltz." As far as technique goes, the Mandolin Club excels, but there is lacking considerable of that spirit and snap which one feels ought to be put into a selection of that sort.

Fort, '14, sang "A Perfect Day" with a great deal of expression and feeling. He received marked applause and rendered as an encore "Rockin' in de Wind," a negro dialect song, very agreeably. Then Shelley, '15, sang "O Ye Tears," accompanied by the Glee Club. This was the first time this number has been publicly sung by the Glee Club and there was considerable nervousness shown, both by the soloist and by the Club. The song has great possibilities and with a little more practice should be one of the best on the Club's program. Then the instrumental quartet, composed of Moore, '14, first mandolin, Baridon, '14, second mandolin, Thompson, '13, ukeleli, and Little, '14, guitar, rendered "Everybody Two Step" and "On the Mississippi" in very acceptable fashion. Spofford, '14, followed with Rosenbaum's two songs, "Tra-la-la-doodle-de-ay" and "I Can't Remember Its Name," which no amount of repetition can make tiresome and into which Spofford puts so much evident enjoyment and enthusiasm that it is contagious and they never fail to make a hit. The last number in the first half of the program was "The Rosary," in which the Glee Club never fails to surpass itself, and which always is most pleasing to the audiences.

After a short intermission, the Mandolin Club appeared with "Monstrat Viam," which they played with considerable swing and energy. Then the quartet, composed of Harding, '16, first tenor, Fort, '14, second tenor, Shelley, '15, first bass, and Spofford, '11, second bass, sang "Kentucky Babe" and "I Think of Thee." Both of these are capable of a great deal of expression and are very harmoniously arranged, as the quartet demonstrated. The SMOKER PROGRAM.

Several Speeches and a Few Vaudeville Stunts.

J. B. Moore will open the official program of the Sophomore Smoker tonight, introducing C. C. Barton, '93, the presiding officer of the evening. Speeches will be made by President Luther, Donnelly, '08, A. J. L'Heureux, '13, on the baseball prospects, T. F. Wessels, '14, on track, Collett, '13, on the preceding football season, and Lawlor, '14, on the prospects for the football team of next fall. After the speeches will come the vaudeville program provided for the evening. The schedule of them is as follows:

A—Barns, Johnson, and Barns—the tough, the grind, the musician.

B—Eine Strasse Music Band—Evans Simonson, Wright, and Carpenter.

C—A Burlesque on

A HALF-HOUR IN JARVIS

Cast of Characters.

Prologuer I. B. Shelley

Ned Burleigh and Steve Travers, Roommates at Trinity, H. R. Hill and G. D. Howell

Jack Randolph and Dick Waller, Students, R. A. Kinney and C. M. Ingersoll

Mrs. Travers, Steve's Mother, N. Reynolds

Miss Travers, Steve's Sister, J. A. Mitchell

Prof. Shreedy, Ex-prizefighter, B. L. Smith

Time—Evening of the present.

Scene—Jarvis Hall, Trinity College. Room of Travers, Burleigh & Co. (Co. being the dog.)

(Many thanks are due to Professor Brenton for his aid in selection of cast and in coaching.)

D—Brainerd and Bent—We Should Worry. Booked Solid until 1915.

E—Three-Round Boxing Bout: Peoria Smith, The Fighting Harp, vs. Young Howell, The Patagonian Whirlwind.

(The near-champion and the nearer.)

"Ciribiribin Waltz" by both Glee and Mandolin Clubs followed and was very well rendered. Then Brainerd came on with his dialect recitations. His speeches were a trifle long, but he thoroughly amused his audience and his was one of the most pleasing numbers. The concert was concluded by the singing by the Glee Club of "My Love is Like a Red, Red Rose", and "Drink to Me only with Thine Eyes", in acceptable fashion, and of "Neath the Elms," which every Trinity Glee Club invariably sings well. After the concert refreshments were served to the members of the clubs.

PRESIDENT LUTHER RETURNS.

Visits Louisville, Kenyon and Culver on Trip.

President Luther returned Tuesday from his annual western trip, after an absence of a little less than two weeks. Dr. Luther left Hartford Friday, February 28th, arriving in Louisville, Ky., Saturday, March 1st. Sunday morning he preached in the Cathedral in Louisville. On Monday, March 3rd, Dr. Luther made an address before the students of the University of Louisville, and the boys of the Davenport Country-School, and also gave a public lecture on school questions before the citizens and citizenesses of Louisville, an account of which has already been published in the Tripod. Dr. Luther was entertained at luncheon Monday by the members of the Pendennis Club of Louisville. On Tuesday he made speeches at the Manual Training High School, and at the Boys' High School, and also visited several of the other Louisville schools.

Dr. Luther spent Wednesday, Mar. 5, in Cincinnati, where he was the guest of James Cullen, '93. During the day he addressed the students of the University of Cincinnati.

Thursday, March 6, Dr. Luther arrived at Kenyon College, Gambier, O., where he spent twenty-four hours, making an address in the college chapel Friday morning. Dr. Luther was a professor at Kenyon for two years before coming to Trinity as a professor.

Saturday, March 8, Dr. Luther visited the Culver Military Academy at Culver, Ind., addressing the cadets Sunday morning. Of Culver, Dr. Luther says: "This is one of the best-known military schools in the country. There are rather more than 400 boys in attendance and the military training is very thorough. Some fifty or sixty of the cadets make up the famous Culver Black Horse Cavalry, the troop which attended Vice-President Marshall at the Inauguration at Washington, Mar. 4. The remainder of the cadet battalion, about 350 strong, also took part in the Inaugural procession. Culver has an extraordinarily fine equipment. The mess-hall is one of the most beautiful rooms that may be found anywhere among the schools and colleges of the country. The whole institution is most interesting and attractive."

Dr. Luther left Culver Sunday, March 9, spent a few hours in Pittsburgh Monday and arrived in Hartford, about noon, Tuesday, March 11.

Championship Game.

The interclass basketball championship of the college will be decided tonight in a game between the seniors and the juniors. This game was scheduled for several weeks ago, but the idea of continuing the proposed series of interclass games did not find much favor, so it was decided to end the series at this date. The lineup for the teams will be practically the same as that given in the previous number of the Tripod.

CLASS DAY ELECTIONS.

John B. Moore, of Geneva, N. Y., Chosen President.

The Class Day elections in the class of 1913 were held Tuesday afternoon in the History room, and brought out the full membership of the class. In the first election, John Bigelow Moore, of Geneva, N. Y., was chosen to act as Class Day president. Kenneth Beardsley Case of West Hartford was the selection for treasurer. Allan Behrends Cook of Brooklyn, N. Y., was the choice for chairman of Class Day committees, Charles Henry Collett of Dover, N. H., was made historian and William Pond Barber of Hartford was elected statistician. John Jay Whitehead, jr., of Yonkers, N. Y., who had charge of the Junior German last year, was elected chairman of the senior promenade committee. Samuel Herbert Evison of Albany, N. Y., is to be the orator, Thomas Gilbert Brown of Norwich, the presenter, and Eliot Lee Ward of New York City, the prophet. Walter Stuart Marsden, jr., of Lenox, Mass., who was in charge of the skit presented by the class at its Sophomore Smoker, was chosen chairman of the senior dramatics.

Work in Alumni Hall.

Alumni Hall has been going through a process of redecoration this week. At the Alumni Association meeting last June, the sum of $300 was appropriated from the funds of the association for the redecoration and improvement of the lighting of the hall. The ceiling has already been painted white, and the walls will be given a couple of coats of buff. There will be several new lighting fixtures and the lighting arrangements on the whole will be greatly improved. Mrs. C. L. F. Robinson and Walter S. Schutz, '93, are the committee in charge of the work, having been appointed at the June alumni meeting.

Improvement of Track.

At a recent meeting of the Athletic Advisory Board, the track schedule which was printed in the Tripod recently was accepted entire. It was also decided at this meeting to give the running track a new sprinkling of cinders, a decision which meets with favor among those who were compelled to use the track a year ago. The pit used at present for both high jumping and pole-vaulting will be extended to the north with a runway of cinders approaching it from that side. The old portion, the runway of which will come in for its share of cinders, will continue to be used for vaulting, but the high jumping will be done in the newer portion of the pit.

POLITICAL SCIENCE CLUB.

Adopts Constitution. — Will Give Politics Serious Study.

The Political Science Club, which was formed at the seminar of the men in Professor Gettell's political science course, met Tuesday evening and adopted a constitution which had been drawn up by a committee composed of R. W. Thomas, '13, E. J. Lazarus, '14, and S. S. Swift, '13. This constitution follows:

ARTICLE I.

Name.

The name of this organization shall be the Political Science Club of Trinity College.

ARTICLE II.

Object.

The object of this organization shall be the study of public affairs, the application of political science to current events, the promotion of an active and intelligent interest in political life, the creation of a sense of responsibility in citizenship, the investigation of social and political conditions, and the encouragement of an active participation in civic work.

ARTICLE III.

Membership.

1—Members shall be active, associate, and honorary.

2—Any student in Trinity College who has taken or is taking a course in American Government or Political Science may become an active member of the association.

3—Associate members may be elected from the student body.

4—Active members upon leaving college may become honorary members.

5—Honorary membership shall consist of such members of the faculty of Trinity College and any other distinguished men who are in sympathy with the objects of this organization, and who shall accept election by this association. Honorary or associate members shall not be entitled to vote or hold office.

6—Any active member who shall absent himself from three meetings in one year without an excuse satisfactory to the executive committee shall be dropped from the membership.

7—New members shall be elected by the executive committee. Upon signing the constitution they shall be entitled to attend the meetings of the association.

ARTICLE IV.

Officers.

1—The officers of this association shall be a President, Vice-President, and Secretary-Treasurer.

2—Officers shall be elected by ballot at the first meeting in May of each year by a majority vote of those present. They shall hold office from said election for one year or until their successors are duly elected.

ARTICLE V.

Committees.

1—The officers of this club together with the Professor of Political Science shall form an executive committee.

2—The executive committee may form an advisory committee which shall be composed of the Professor of Political Science, one or more honorary members, and the president of the club.

3—Special committees not provided for may be appointed at any time by the president of the association.

ARTICLE VI.

Dues.

There shall be no regular dues. The president, when authorized by a majority vote of the association, may make any necessary assessments.

ARTICLE VII.

Meetings.

1—Regular meetings shall be held every two weeks during the collegiate year.

2—A majority of the active membership including two of the officers, shall constitute a quorum.

3—Notice of all meetings shall be given to the members at least twenty-four hours before each meeting.

ARTICLE VIII.

Discussions.

The political and social discussions of the association shall be in the form of a seminar under the leadership of an active member.

ARTICLE IX.

Publication.

The publication of discussions and business transacted shall be at the discretion of the executive committee alone.

ARTICLE X.

Amendments.

This constitution shall be amended by a two-thirds vote of the members present at a regular meeting, provided that the proposed amendments have been read at the previous regular meeting.

To Professional
Men:

No class of men need life insurance more than do professional men. As a rule, the income of a professional man is largely, if not wholly, dependent on his brain, and when the activity of the mind ceases, his income ceases, or is at once greatly reduced.

The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company offers to the professional man who desires to assure his wife and children for life, or for a specified term of years, the continuance of a substantial part, at least, of the income to which they were accustomed during his lifetime, a contract perfectly suited to these needs.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY SCRAP.
 Underclassmen in Battle Tonight and Tomorrow.

The annual St. Patrick's Day scrap between the two underclasses will take place tonight and tomorrow morning. Tonight the members of the freshman class will be compelled to leave the smoker and campus at eleven o'clock, or run the risk of being captured, while men in either class may be captured after 11.45. The hours of the morning will be spent by the freshmen in making Hartford understand that there is a class of 1916 at Trinity, by emblazoning the fact on posters put up all over the city. The members of 1915 will do their best to undo this work.

Between 8 and 9.30 o'clock tomorrow morning, the freshmen will attempt to raise their banner on the tree which was selected Wednesday by J. B. Moore, president of the senate. This tree is in the row which stretches eastward from the janitor's office in Northam Towers and is sixth in the line from the college walk.

KAPPA BETA PHI.
 Plans Made to Make It of Greater Importance.

The Beta Chapter of Kappa Beta Phi became an active organization on last Monday night, when the charter members of 1913 met together and reorganized the society on a substantial basis. Kappa Beta Phi sprang into existence at Trinity in 1882, but has lain dormant for a number of years, the personnel of the society usually being left to the discretion of the Editor of the Ivy. It is now planned to make it an active organization, with definite meetings and officers, and to make it the instrument of creating better fellowship between the members of the different groups in college.

In June of each year the members of Kappa Beta Phi are to elect those who are to constitute the membership for the following year, certain restrictions being placed on membership. The elections on Monday night resulted as follows: President—R. C. Noble; secretary-treasurer—J. A. Moore.

The other charter members are T. C. Brown, R. L. Deppen, S. S. Swift, R. W. Thomas, E. L. Ward and R. P. Withington.
